“Gathering Wisdom”

Read Proverbs 4: 1-13

" Getting wisdom is the most important thing you can do! And with your wisdom, develop good judgment and common sense.... If you live that kind of life, you'll not limp or stumble as you run. Carry out my instructions; don't forget them, for they will lead you to real living."

Growing up I heard so many people say how important is to learn new things and that we should never stop seeking knowledge. Over this past year I have learned how important it is to keep an open mind, seek the advice of others, listen to their advice and then to use my best judgement and common sense as to what the next and best path for me should be and try to apply that advice to my life. With the passing of my beloved husband of 48 years, all of the decisions about life choices truly landed on my shoulders for the first time in my life. I could just try to do what I thought might be good or I could seek counsel from others, but it has been up to me for the first time to weigh all of the advice and to choose the best options and path that I believe the Lord is leading me towards.

Prayer: Father, we are so happy that you are available to help us the way, as you did for your son and the disciples, all those many years ago. If we listen closely to those you place in our lives to impart the knowledge you have helped them garner over lives.

Yielding: I will try to do the things that I feel in my heart that God is calling and leading me to do by sharing his love and blessing with everyone that I meet by listening to their needs and stories just as Jesus did so many years ago.
